FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NAPED Announces 2018 Annual General Meeting

Growing law enforcement/public safety non-profit association will host annual conference in Savannah, Georgia.

New Bern, NC (February 2017) – The National Association of Police Equipment Distributors (NAPED) will be hosting their annual meeting at the Westin Savannah Harbor Golf Resort & Spa in Savannah, Georgia, June 8 – 11, 2018. Set on the scenic Savannah river, the 2-and-a-half-day conference provides law enforcement and public safety distributors/dealers, manufacturers and industry professionals the opportunity to network and grow their businesses.

This year, NAPED is pleased to announce two free seminars sponsored by PoliceOne.com for the membership in addition to meetings and exhibition space. Sara Wilson, vice president of the Praetorian Digital Grants Division will speak on police grants, what they are and how to help agencies with them. Nick Bruckner, vice president of the Praetorian Digital Grants Division will speak on how companies within the public safety/law enforcement markets can better reach and retain customers through digital marketing.

“These are challenging times in our industry,” Tim Brown, President of NAPED and GT Distributors commented. “NAPED is a valuable resource for companies looking to form long term relationships that provide growth opportunities in the law enforcement markets. Not only do we have a growing membership, but are offering our members more value for their membership.”

NAPED is now a North Carolina non-profit association benefitting the very men and women that use NAPED’s membership products and stores to access the best law enforcement and public safety products.

New members can sign up at www.naped.com and register for the Annual General Meeting on the homepage of the NAPED website, as well. NAPED questions or need help registering? Contact director@naped.com.
